The Indiana Green Expo is brought to you by the Indiana Nursery and Landscape Association, the Midwest Regional Turf Foundation, and the Indiana Park and Recreation Association.

REGISTER BY DECEMBER 20 AND SAVE!
WORKSHOPS

Arranged classroom style, the workshops offer in-depth looks at different aspects of our industry. Enrollment is limited in each workshop and registrants can attend only one workshop per day. You must pre-register to guarantee a seat, but workshop tickets remaining after pre-registration will be sold on-site on a first-come, first-serve basis. Sign up early, workshops sell out quickly!

Wednesday, January 10

WORKSHOP A: INVASIVE AQUATIC PLANTS
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. (Free to all interested parties)
Patrice Charlebois, INDNR, Lake Michigan Biological Station

Invasive aquatic plants are taking root in Indiana, and posing serious threats to the state's ecological and economic health. You are needed to help prevent introduction and spread of harmful invasive aquatic plants. This is a special FREE workshop, but pre-registration is required.

WORKSHOP B: CREATING EFFECTIVE AND ECONOMICAL APPLICATION PROGRAMS
1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Bob Avenius, TruGreen ChemLawn and Zac Reicher, Purdue University

Formulating a management plan or sound system for professional lawn care requires striking a balance between agronomics, economics, and customer needs. This workshop will walk you through the step-by-step process of optimizing a management plan. Ample time will be reserved to work through individual plans and registrants are encouraged to bring their current plans to be reviewed individually. (3b:3, RT:3)

GCSAA WORKSHOP: BENTGRASS MANAGEMENT AND ROOT ZONE MAINTENANCE
Milt Engelke, Texas AM University
8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Learn about the environmental conditions and cultural practices that optimize the longevity of sand and turf performance of primarily bentgrass greens. Establishment to renovation will be discussed, with emphasis on the maintenance of an active and effective root zone to support bentgrass growth and development throughout the year. Watering practices, fertilization, aerification and topdressing techniques are featured as well as organic matter management and optimizing root zone performance.

PLEASE NOTE: Registration for this workshop is handled through the GCSAA at http://www.gcsaa.org or call 800-672-7878.

Thursday, January 11

WORKSHOP C: TURFGRASS INSECT PESTS—A PROBLEM SOLVING APPROACH
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Doug Richmond, Purdue University and Tim Gibb, Purdue University

Since insect pests can be extremely destructive in maintained landscapes, understanding the biology and the ever-changing control methods for insect pests is crucial. This workshop will focus on identification, life cycles, and management of white grubs, bill bugs, surface feeders and other insect pests of Indiana turf. This workshop is part of the special one-day registration for Lawn Care Technicians on Thursday, January 11. (3a:1, 3b:3, RT:3)

WORKSHOP D: PRACTICAL MATH FOR THE TURFGRASS PROFESSIONAL
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Adam Moeller, Purdue University; Jared Nemitz, Purdue University; and Kristie Walker, Purdue University

Practical math calculations are essential for any manager for planning, purchasing, and applying anything to turf. Though few of us like math, these instructors make it educational as well as enjoyable! This workshop covers area calculations, fertilizer and pesticide calculations, and purchasing decisions. (3a:1, 3b:3, 5:1, 6:1, 7a:1, RT:3)

WORKSHOP E: USING NATIVE AREAS
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Drew Bender, JF New; Jim Scott, Purdue University; Kevin Tungesvick, Spence Restoration Nursery; and Tom Voigt, University of Illinois

No-mow areas, buffer strips, wetlands, and other naturalized areas are becoming increasing important and popular on golf courses and commercial areas. This panel of experienced professionals will discuss design and construction, species selection, and practical considerations when planning, building, and using natural areas. A great workshop for golf course superintendents, landscape architects and designers, and planners!

Friday, January 12

WORKSHOP F: INDIANA ACCREDITEDHORTICULTURIST REVIEW AND TEST (MANUAL)
Wayne Gruber, Gardens On The Prairie

WORKSHOP G: INDIANA ACCREDITEDHORTICULTURIST REVIEW AND TEST (CD)
Melissa Mrovec, Allen Landscape
9:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. • Workshops F and G are taught by experienced industry professionals to help you prepare for the afternoon exam. Bring all your questions from your study materials, for there will be ample time for questions and individual attention. The tests will be administered 1-4 p.m. on Friday, January 12.

Certified IAH and Masters may also attend for CEU credit. However, space is limited and will first be reserved for Review & Test individuals.

WORKSHOP H: SURVIVING THE NEW RETAIL MARKET
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Bill Calkins, Ball Publishing; Robin Brumfield, Rutgers University; and Larry Martin, Martin Organization, Inc.

The retail market is a constantly moving target, but moving with that target is critical for success. Three well-respected professionals will discuss how retail is changing, how to adapt to the changes, surviving the big box stores, accounting principles, and marketing. This is a no-miss opportunity.

WORKSHOP I: BASIC TRAINING–TURF MANAGEMENT
9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Glenn Hardebeck, Purdue University and Zac Reicher, Purdue University
A workshop designed for beginners in turf or for more experienced professionals who want a review on the basic foundations of turfgrass management. This workshop will cover the basics on plant growth, turfgrass establishment and cultural practices in the morning, and pest management and pesticide safety in the afternoon. A great workshop for the whole staff! (3b:3, RT:3)

WORKSHOP J: EQUIPMENT TECHNICIANS–UNDERSTANDING LUBRICANTS AND ADDITIVES
9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Don Wrocklage, LubriPlate

With equipment becoming more complex daily, lubricants and additives are also becoming more complex. Understand the differences among all the choices to maximize the performance and life of your equipment. This workshop is designed for anyone who works on the equipment for golf courses, athletic fields, lawn care, nursery or any company with industrial equipment. Part of the one-day special registration for equipment technicians on Friday, January 12.
ONE-DAY REGISTRATION

Limited on time? These conference/trade show combos are designed for those who can only join us for one day. Available only on Thursday and Friday, January 11 & 12.

Thursday, January 11, 2007

SPORTS TURF MANAGEMENT

Morning and afternoon sessions on many aspects of athletic turf, including discussions from many in-the-field professionals. Topics include topdressing, overseeding, infields, and bermudagrass. Plus discussions from professionals on how they manage athletic turf at the Carmel Dad's Club, Indiana University, University of Notre Dame, and Purdue University.

LAWN CARE TECHNICIANS

The day starts off with a three-hour workshop on biology and control of common insect pests of turf, presented by Purdue's Doug Richmond and Tim Gibb who are some of the most enlightening and educational speakers around. There's ample time over lunch to attend the trade show. The afternoon topics include diseases of turf and ornamentals, animal control, and new findings on the stability of plastic storage tanks. (3b:5)

Friday, January 12

EQUIPMENT TECHNICIANS

Morning, 3-hour workshop on lubricants and additives which help extend the life of your equipment. This is an absolute must for anyone involved in turf. After the three-hour workshop, attendees can attend any of the educational sessions throughout the afternoon as well as spend time on the trade show floor.

BASIC TRAINING: TURF MANAGEMENT

This is a full one-day workshop designed for beginners in turf or for more experienced professionals who want a review on the basic foundations of turfgrass management. This workshop will cover the basics on plant growth, turfgrass establishment and cultural practices in the morning, and the pest management and pesticide safety in the afternoon. With ample time to visit the trade show over lunch, this is a great cost-effective opportunity for the whole staff!! (3b:3)

SPEAKER HIGHLIGHTS

INGRID E. CUMMINGS is a writer, teacher, PR/communications consultant, radio/TV broadcaster, Renaissance coach, and founder of The Rubicon Center for the Rebirth of Renaissance. Rubicon Communications LLC is the umbrella organization.

Ingrid is also a newspaper columnist, contributor of literary nonfiction to periodicals, an associate professor at IUPUI, a frequent media guest, and public speaker. In addition, she provides programming content for all media: newspapers, TV, radio, magazines, internet, and the classroom.

Ingrid’s topics will feature communications, emotional intelligence and how to handle the media! She will also be available for one-on-one coaching throughout the day on the trade show floor.

FRANK S. ROSSI is Associate Professor of Turfgrass Science & New York State Extension Turfgrass Specialist.

Frank’s emphasis is ecologically and environmentally sound turfgrass management. This includes developing a scientific basis for resource efficient turfgrass establishment and management programs that preserve water quality, enhance stress tolerance, quantify niche parameters. As the New York State Extension Turfgrass Specialist and Cornell Turfgrass Team Leader, Frank is responsible for industry liaison, program concept, delivery and evaluation for the interdisciplinary research and extension team.

LANE P. TREDWAY is an Assistant Professor of Plant Pathology and Extension Specialist at North Carolina State University. His focus is to identify important disease problems in the turfgrass industry, develop practical solutions to these problems through research, and inform growers of these solutions through extension activities. Lane provides turfgrass managers and county extension agents with the most accurate, up-to-date information related to turfgrass diseases and their management as well as the diagnosis of turfgrass samples that are submitted to the Plant Disease and Insect Clinic.

JAMES URBAN, FASLA, ISA is a landscape architect with over 30 years of experience in the field of urban development and the planting of trees in difficult urban sites. Since 1982, he has been researching and testing ideas related to the installation of trees in the urban environment. This work has brought him into collaboration with many leading arborist and tree researchers translating and developing applications of their ideas for landscape architects. This has included the testing of new urban tree systems and planting concepts, developing new approaches to landscape architectural design, detailing and specifications in the area of trees and urban soils.

His work has been published in the Journal of Arboriculture and Landscape Architecture Magazine. He is the recipient of the Professional Urban Forester Award from American Forester, a Merit Award from the ASLA for his research and has been made a Fellow in the ASLA in the area of contributions to the knowledge of the profession. Currently, he maintains a landscape architectural consulting practice specializing in the design of urban trees and soils.

2007 MRTF DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARDEE

Awards Presentation and Reception
Thursday, January 11, 2007 • 6:00-7:30 p.m.

ALLEN WEHR, long-time supporter of the MRTF and Indiana’s Turf Industry, is the 2007 Distinguished Service Award Winner. Allen began his career as assistant superintendent at Jasper Municipal Golf Course in 1970, serving under his father. He then became superintendent of the Huntingburg Country Club of which he remained until 1988. In 1980, Allen started his own part-time business named Green Carpet Lawn Services, Inc. serving the Dubois and surrounding counties in Southern Indiana. He then accepted the role of superintendent of Jasper Country Club in 1984. He held all three of these positions in 1988. In 1991 Columbia Pictures came to Southern Indiana to film the movie “A League of Their Own.” Allen’s company and employees were contracted to prepare the fields in Huntingburg and “Bosse Field” in Evansville for the movie. Allen joined the Scotts Company as a technical representative, calling on golf turf, athletic fields, and commercial properties covering the central 2/3 of the state. Allen remained in this position until Scotts was sold to The Andersons in 2000. Allen joined the Lesco Company in 2000 until 2001. In August of 2002, he changed positions and joined Turfgrass, Inc. Indiana Branch and is currently employed by Turfgrass, Inc.

Allen has been one of the most generous volunteers for turf organizations in the Midwest. He was secretary and treasurer of the Tri-State Golf Course Superintendents Association for too many years to remember. Allen was a Board Member of the MRTF 1976 to 1984, serving as President in 1984. Allen served as treasurer of the MRTF from 1995 to 2005 and helped lay the foundation for financial security the organization currently enjoys. Allen also served on the Board of the Kentucky Turfgrass Council from 1976 to 1984, serving one year as Vice President. Allen was one of the founding board members of the Indiana State Lawn Care Association (now the IPLLA) and served as President in 1991.
